

JANESVILLE PLANS FOR ELABORATE RECEPTION OF THE FAIR COMMITTEE

PLANS FOR MEETING THE LEGISLATIVE INVESTIGATORS ON FRIDAY NEXT.

ENTHUSIASM SHOWN

At Meeting Held This Morning to Discuss Matters Pertaining to the Reception and Entertainment.

Janesville will extend the glad hand to the committee of the legislature on the location of the state fair when it prepared not only to give its members a royal good time during their stay but to impress them with the fact that Janesville is from every point of view the most desirable place in which to hold the great annual exposition.

Arrangements for the welcoming and entertainment of the committee were made at an enthusiastic meeting of twenty representative citizens held at the city hall this morning. Every man and woman and child who can come is urged to join in the reception of the visitors and impress them with their interest in the fair. It is hoped that some of the factories of the city will dismiss their men for an hour so that they may share in extending the welcome.

Nine or more automobiles will be waiting at the station. The members of the fair committee will be distributed among them, and in company with Mayor James A. Fathens, Charles Putnam, Alva Hemmings, and other officers of the Twenty-Five Thousand Club, and representative citizens, will be given a ride around the city and pointed out the points of interest. The ride may include a trip to the State Institute for the Blind.

Dinner will be served to the visitors at one of the city hotels. Special tables will be set for them and the city will furnish music during the meal. Arrangements have been made to have place cards printed that will show in brief the advantages of Janesville as a state fair location. Short ten-minute speeches by the fair committee members of the party will elaborate on these points and bring out others.

Early in the afternoon the legislative committee will convene in the newly improved Driving Park where they will be shown the fair site, that this city has to offer. Charles Putnam, who has been appointed marshal of the day has promised to arrange for an exhibition race between some of the fast horses that are now in training at the park to demonstrate the speed possibilities of the track.

According to present plans, the visitors from the legislature will leave Janesville for Milwaukee at 4:45 o'clock in the afternoon. There is some hope of persuading them to spend the night here and afford them a more extended stay. This cannot be done they will be escorted to the station after being served a buffet luncheon.

Great enthusiasm was manifested at a meeting held this morning by Mayor James A. Fathens, and those present were fertile in suggestions for the reception arrangements and in arguments for the selection of Janesville as the state fair city. Mayor Fathens presided, H. H. Bliss was elected secretary. Those who made remarks were George S. Parker, W. L. Dougherty, E. W. Winslow, J. J. Conners, M. P. Richardson, Charles Putnam and William Kuhlman. On the motion of Mr. Richardson, Mr. Putnam was appointed chairman of the committee on transportation and entertainment at the driving park. Messrs. Conners and Richardson were delegated to arrange for the dinner and refreshments planned for the visitors. George S. Parker was made chairman of the committee on general information, to lay the case of Janesville before them, and J. W. Van Buren and Charles Snyder, a committee on music. Edward Winslow was elected chairman of the committee on transportation and entertainment at the driving park. Messrs. HEALTH DEPARTMENT CALLED INADEQUATE

Present State Organization Attacked and New Bill is Urged at Committee Hearing.

Madison, Wis., May 7.—Total inadequacy of the state's health appropriation was charged by Dr. John M. Biefer of Milwaukee, who advocated the passage of the Peavey bill reorganizing the state board of health, before the assembly committee on public welfare. Dr. Biefer, a severe critic of the present board, made the same criticism, and declared that the board has done all that any board insufficiently provided with administrative machinery and funds could possibly do. With the general purpose of the Peavey bill Dr. Harper was in accord.

Comments Measure.

"It's a good measure," he said, "but it is a copy of almost verbatim laws that have been instrumental in having enacted."

Dr. Gilbert E. Seaman of Milwaukee, shared with Dr. Biefer the defense of the bill, while Assemblyman Peavey explained that the bill was the product of the health department, and advanced health administration. Dr. Stoddard of the present board saw many progressive features in it and in general favored it.

The board showed a disposition to learn from what sources the bill originated, but was not very successful. Dr. Biefer said he did not know, although before the legislature opened he had discussed such legislation with the governor. He said, however, that its source was not material in view of the larger good to be accomplished by it.

PEAVEY STATES CASE

Assemblyman Peavey explained that many men were interested in drawing up the bill, which he said had been drafted in the legislative reference library. He admitted it was drawn largely after the fashion of the health law. He regretted that the board of health had not been consulted in its drafting but said that each apparently had left it for others to invite the board in. Dr. Seaman also expressed his regret that this had not been done. Dr. Harper said he knew why these men felt chagrined for not consulting the board on this bill, but this was the nearest he came to, in the implication of factional politics.

NEED $10,000 JOB

Dr. Seaman said the head of the health department should be a $10,000 job, but because Wisconsin is not used to paying such salaries he would place it at $7,500 at least. Dr. Seaman offered several objections to various clauses in the bill, but as a whole the bill he thought was a step in advance and needed no amendment.

Dr. Harper said that except as physician members of the state legislature had sought advanced health administration. This was the first time in years service as secretary that he had heard of such a thing. He said that the bill was a step in the right direction, and that it was necessary to have a health department. He said that the bill was a step in the right direction, and that it was necessary to have a health department.

M. E. BROTHERHOOD ENTERTAINS LADIES

May Day Banquet and Program Shared by Wives and Lady Friends of Members Last Evening.

Spring, its inherent beauties, its inspiration of optimism, affection, and appeal to what is best and highest in man and woman, was alike the inspiration and theme of the May Day Queen banquet given last evening by the Brotherhood of the Methodist church. A May festival without women was not to be thought of, so the members made this, the first in the series of the season, "Ladies' Night," and invited their wives and lady friends, not only to be their guests, but to share generously in the program.

A hundred and fifty or more men and women were seated at the tables in the church banquet room, daintily decorated with canopies of green festooning, and were served a substantial menu prepared by one of the church circles. Miss Helen Mary Atkinson, the toastmistress, gave a very cleverly worded prelude in verse, and introduced each number on the program with compliments or sallies of wit at the expense of those who gave them. These too, were given in the form of verse, and caused much merriment.

To Miss Hazel Dewey was given the honor of being crowned May Queen. Little Elizabeth Rothenfeld laid the crown upon her head while the young ladies' chorus sang a selection suited to the festive ceremony. The Queen then occupied a throne near one corner of the large dining room.

Joseph L. Hay gave the first talk on the program under the title of "The Flower of the Year." His remarks were a welcome and a tribute to the ladies, the guests of the Brotherhood. The response, "Perennials," was presented by Mrs. F. T. Richards, with profound anecdotes. George A. Jacobs introduced well taken, though not unkind wit and humor at the expense of the ladies in his toast, entitled "Spring Fever." A response in kind was made by Miss Etta E. Hollis under the head of "Sassafras Tea." Miss Estacia Nott gave a recital of the glories of the "springtime" and "Flowers" in an apt poetic form, and "Echoes from the May Bazaar," Mrs. W. W. Wool paid a beautiful tribute to the motherhood.

The musical part of the program consisted of "Andelsson's Spring Song" by the ladies' quartet, consisting of Miss Emily Sewell, Miss Estacia Nott, Mrs. Rosa and Miss Strong, a vocal solo, "Bird Raptures," by Miss Sewell, and a selection, "The Spring Song," by the young ladies' chorus. All numbers were heartily applauded. The program was concluded with one verse of "Home Sweet Home," sung by all present, and the benediction by the Rev. T. D. Williams.

SENATOR WILLIAM STONE SIXTY-FIVE YEARS OLD

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)

Washington, D. C., May 7.—William J. Stone, the senior senator from Missouri, received the congratulations of his colleagues in the upper house today on the occasion of his sixty-fifth birthday anniversary. The national lawmakers enjoy a wider acquaintance than does Mr. Stone, who came to the senate ten years ago, after having served three terms in the house of representatives for two and four years as governor of Missouri. Mr. Stone has long been an influential factor in Democratic national councils. Even those who have found most fault with his statesmanship are ready to concede that he is a past master of the game of politics. In the early days of Senator Stone's political career his opponents in Missouri dubbed him "Gunshoe Bill," and the nickname has stuck to him ever since.

PLAN TO ELIMINATE EVIL CAUSED BY POOR FIRING

Bulletins have been received from E. B. Hall, master mechanic, to the effect in warning the firemen against the smoke evil caused by improper firing. This movement to lessen the thick, black smoke from the locomotives has been nation-wide and attracted great attention in Chicago where the council has passed stringent laws against it.

The letter states that all firemen are requested to use all possible care in lessening this evil and instructions as to how to avoid it have been issued. While the citizens of Janesville have never complained to any great degree, the stopping of the smoke evil will be greatly appreciated.

ST. PAUL RAILROAD ISSUE EMPLOYEES' MONTHLY MAGAZINE

The first issue of the "Milwaukee Railway System Employees' Magazine" was received by the local railroad men of the St. Paul line and all have voiced favorable opinions regarding the publication. It contains sixty-four pages and is filled with stories of railroad news. On page three there are pictures of ten engineers of the sixties and three of them are from Janesville. They are Sol. Tuttle, John Fox and J. E. Mills. Fox, a resident of Janesville, is an engineering man, an early date and from the rise of the St. Paul railroad. Mr. Fox started at track laying at an early date, the compensation being seventy-five cents a day. From this position he rose to engineer and at present is general foreman of the Mineral Point division, having been sixty-one years in the service of the St. Paul railroad and is eighty-six years old.

Extra switch engines have been placed in service because of the increased amount of freight business that the St. Paul road is having. Between forty and fifty cars of coal are being shipped daily besides an increasing amount of other freight.

When one feels "off color" it's a good idea to look for the cause.

There always is a cause—

And usually it is found in wrong living. Coffee drinking affects many unpleasantly, because the coffee drug, caffeine, (about 2 1-2 grains to the cupful) is a poison and causes heart disturbance and indigestion and many other ills.

Coffee drinkers who are "out of tune" can get back to steady health and comfort by quitting coffee and using

Instant Postum

This wholesome, pure food-drink provides a rich, delicious table beverage much resembling high-grade Java coffee in flavor, but made from prime Northern wheat and the juice of Southern sugar-cane, it is nourishing and absolutely free from the coffee drug, caffeine, or any other harmful ingredient.

Postum now comes in two forms. The original Postum requiring 15 to 20 minutes boiling—sold at 15 and 25c the package.

Instant Postum is a quickly soluble powder; all the insoluble parts having been removed. A level teaspoonful in a cup of hot water, with sugar and cream to taste, make a delightful cup "quick as a wink," 45 to 50 cup tins, 30c; 90 to 100 cup tins, 50c.

BUSINESS PHILOSOPHY

Mail Order House Invades Small City.

DISTRIBUTES INNUMERABLE EXPENSIVE CATALOGUES AND REAP A LARGE HARVEST.

By THOMAS J. SULLIVAN.
(Copyrighted 1912 by National Business Publicity Association.)

A few weeks ago thousands of large, expensive catalogues of a Chicago Mail Order House were distributed in a manufacturing suburb of Milwaukee. This latter fact alone one would naturally think would discourage such an expensive outlay, but it appears that the mail order house had the faith in the weakness of human nature, and even the fact that the suburbs at the side door of a large and prosperous city did not deter them.

We became interested and decided to ascertain if possible if the concern derived any results from this lavish financial outlay. So after the suburbanites had had time to digest this mammoth pictorial review, we checked up the money sending facilities of the town and were surprised and amazed to learn that in the few days which had elapsed since the catalogues were distributed, no less than 218 money orders had been issued in favor of the Chicago House, aggregating a total of several thousand dollars.

Can anyone imagine anything so outrageous? A manufacturing city where all residents are wage-earners, who live modestly and without luxury, where cash sales with the home merchant are the exception, not the rule, sending 218 money orders to an outside concern for household and personal necessities which could be bought as cheaply and delivered more promptly right at home, and those same people wonder why their city does not thrive and prosper.

One woman with whom we talked had bought shoes for her children. She said that she only had to pay $1.45 a pair, while they would have cost her $1.60 at home. Yes, she always bought on credit at home, but usually paid in two or three months. No, she had never asked the home merchant if he would throw off 15 cents for cash, neither had she asked the mail order house for credit.

No, she was not a taxpayer, but she sent her children to school, have good schools, too. Yes, and they have sewer, water and street lights, and the city is patrolled and protected by an ample police force. Who pays for it all? Why the business men and taxpayers of course. No, the children or the comfort of her family.

Sure, she was a church member and the church often gave fairs and socials and things. No, the Chicago mail order house never bought any tickets; but the home business men did though, and paid cash for them, too. Yes, her husband was employed in the suburb, and his employer depended upon and must have local business in order to provide work and salary for his help.

Yes, she now, for the first time realized that she was doing herself, her children, her husband, and above all the home merchant a grave wrong by sending her husband's earnings to an out-of-town competitor, but she would never do it again.

The world is full of just such women as described above. They do not think or understand, but when they do no power on earth will swerve them from their sense of right and duty.

Do you know a single mail order house that has ever spent one dollar in your community?

SEVER the nerve that leads to any part of body and the portion affected is immediately paralyzed. No amount of drugs nor human skill can bring back to that part of the body the life that has gone.

This Fact, Known to Everybody, Is the Basis of Chiropractic.

If a nerve severed will lead to paralysis, one partially severed or pinched, will lead to partial paralysis. The nerves spring from the spine and passing through apertures in the vertebrae spread to all parts of the body. In the normal body these apertures are large enough to allow free and unobstructed passage, but as the man or woman grows, and the spine assumes the burden of supporting the body, the different vertebrae are many times slightly displaced and as a result the nerve openings are partially closed. The nerves are pinched, partial paralysis of different parts of the body follows.

An Organ Partially Paralyzed Cannot Perform Its Functions.

Hence, the Liver, the Heart, the Kidneys, the Stomach or any other organ, strong and healthy in itself may become diseased by a Subluxation of the spine at the point where the nerves that lead to it leave the spinal column.

Chiropractors, by their knowledge of the Spine and Nerves, remove this pressure by Chiropractic adjustments, the cause of ill health removed, health returns.

Are You a Sufferer From This Form of Partial Paralysis?

Paul Brown of Madison spent Sunday afternoon in the city. The University of Michigan baseball team, coached by Branch Rickey, former big leaguer and now scout for the St. Louis Browns, seems to have a star of the first degree in pitcher George Sisler, who bats so well that when he is not pitching he plays the outfield. He struck out 14 men in five innings of a recent game and retired the fifteenth on a job fly he himself caught. He leads the team in batting with an average over .500.

The long and short of it have got together. Nemo Leibold, Cleveland Nap outfielder, probably is the shortest man in the league baseball, while pitcher, Fred Falkenberg, of the same team, is one of the tallest. They have become great chums. Leibold's head barely comes about Falk's waist.

An observing man has remarked that all the pugilists wearing Irish names were really from the Old Sod there would be enough battling parrots to free Ireland early.

They have some mighty smart teachers in Washington. Knowing that the youthful mind is turning early to the work of the Washington baseball team, these pedagogues have utilized this bent in making arithmetic problems more interesting than in the old days, by injecting the national game into the questions asked. As "Chick" Gandil is at bat 40 times and makes 15 hits, what is his average? That's making the schools practical with a vengeance.

Let's hope that Luther McCarthy's stunt of appearing in a bathtub in a New York hotel doesn't set a fashion. A man with a green hair adorned with a bow in the southwest corner and wearing a bright red bathrobe must be a startling sight. Luther must be

It is said that harmony in the team is the secret of the Cleveland Naps' fine showing this season. The Naps have cut out quarreling among themselves and are now out to win.

While the chances to fly a pennant in St. Louis this year are away outside still, neither the Browns nor the Cardinals are as punk as they were touted to be before the opening of the season.

Joe Cantillon's Minneapolis Old Settlers will soon discard their canes and liniment and show the American Association youngsters how the pastime was played in the late sixties and early seventies.

The little Carolina league has turned out a number of stars in the past few years, and now comes Pitcher Ray, of Winston-Salem team who recently pitched a no-hit-no-run game against Durham.

President Locke, of the Phillies, asserts that fifty per cent of the major league clubs are losing money. The moguls should open the season earlier which would add more double-headers and likewise bargain matinees.

Worried by the lack of a good left-handed pitcher, Manager Clark Griffith of the Washington team is searching the country for a big south-paw with lots of stuff, and does not much care whether he is green or not. He thinks such a man, once secured, would mean a certain championship to the Senators.

Chicago has nothing on Troy, New York. The Packers' Paradise may have its Chance days if it wants them; Troy is going to have its Evers day. Four hundred citizens of the Laundry City have reserved seats in the New York hall park for May 10, when their distinguished fellow citizen, Johnny Evers, is scheduled to lead his Chicago Cubs against the New York Giants.

Manager Miller Huggins is rejoicing at the expected return of Arnold Hauser to shortstop for St. Louis. The Cards have been missing him sadly.

Local High School Nine Will Meet Beloit on Latter's Field Next Saturday.

The Janesville high school baseball nine will again battle Saturday with the Beloit high school team at the Line City. The locals are practicing faithfully, and are expected to be in the best of condition by the week end. Captain Harry Ryan claims that the locals should win with ease, because of the fact that Connell was not in trim last Saturday. Beloit are more confident now than ever, and while they are weak on pitchers, they feel that some one can battle the heavy hitters from the local high school. They are all the more confident because they were able to secure nine hits off Connell last week, while their twirler held Janesville to eight scattered bingles, one of which was a triple. It was Connell's first game, and he would undoubtedly have felt were it not for the costly errors on the part of the Beloit team. Janesville expects a better game than last, were it not for the good playing by the Janesville infield. The Janesville nine may have considerable difficulty in hitting him, even though they are hard hitters.

This week's practice will take up principally the inside baseball art and also to give the outfield plenty of practice in catching flies. Last Saturday the outfield was the weak spot on the local nine, while the infield worked without an error. The game Saturday will be played in the afternoon.

HE IS THE FRIEND OF RAW RECRUITS

Alva Williams.

Alva Williams, catcher of the Senators, is the big good-natured friend of the new men on the Washington American League team. He has been putting the recruits through their paces and will probably catch more or less regularly throughout the season.

KLAUS TOPNOTCHER; TRAINING DOES IT

Frank Klaus.

Hard, conscientious training probably more than anything else has put Frank Klaus, Pittsburgh middleweight, at the very top of his class. Ability came with his training, and now he is looked upon as the rightful claimant to the throne once occupied by the late Stanley Ketchel. "Klaus smokes a few cigarettes and takes a drink occasionally, but the moment he trains he flies like a monk."

"THE BLINDNESS OF VIRTUE." A good story is told concerning "The Blindness of Virtue" which comes to the Myers Theater next Thursday, May 8, matinee and evening showing how real merit succeeded in disarming two of the keenest critics in America.

George M. Cohan and William Collier, possessors of numerous individual excellences and being members of America's leading mutual admiration society, are on the lookout for a play which they may traverse in a prospective joint appearance. Learning of the extensive favor with which "The Blindness of Virtue" has been accepted in Chicago, the two author-comedians journeyed one day recently to the theater with a view to discovering the vulnerable spots in that earnest play. Their inspection of the performance turned their plan. After the final curtain had fallen Cohan turned to Collier and said:

"No man who has a sister could sit through that play and then attempt to make love to it."

"It would be a sin," said Collier. "And the burlesque on Cosmo Hamilton's play will remain undone."

THE STATE FAIR.

On Friday of this week Janesville will entertain the legislative committee that are visiting various cities throughout the state which offer possible sites for the location of the state fair, should it be removed from Milwaukee, as is now contemplated. It is a matter of civic pride that Janesville be well represented in presenting the claims of the city to the special committee. It should be a citizens' movement and all should do their part to make the visit of the investigators as pleasant as possible. Automobile owners should offer their cars to the committee having charge of the entertainment. Business men should devise part of their time on that day to meeting the fine gentlemen from all parts of the state and everything possible should be done to give them a most favorable impression of Janesville. When Janesville sets out to entertain it usually does things up-brown. This is an opportunity to make a good impression on men whose report may decide the important question at issue. It is a matter of civic pride that Janesville can offer advantages that no other location in the state can—good water, good train service, good grounds and ample accommodation of the grounds, as well as means of transportation to and from the grounds themselves. It would be a big thing for Janesville if it could land this plum. So everyone should do their utmost to make the visitors of Friday welcome and impress them with Janesville's claims.

FORCED TO YIELD.

Dispatches tell us that plucky little Montenegro has been forced to yield to the hopelessly superior forces against her and to resign into the hands of the big powers of Europe the city of Scutari, her fairly earned prize
city, whose winning cost the lives of thousands of her sons. King Nicholas so notified the assembled ambassadors in London yesterday.

The Chicago Inter Ocean says that from American viewpoints the conduct of the great powers in this matter exhibits the depth of cynical and sordid selfishness. The "concert of the powers" has upheld Turkish misrule ever since 1878, when Germany, Austria,
France and England united to restrain Russia from making a final end of the Turk in Europe.

After a full generation of continuous promises of reform in Macedonia and no performance the little nation of the Balkan peninsula united to seek justice for their racial brethren with the sword. All the statesmen of the big powers remonstrated, and were loudly vocal in their expressions of regret at the way the Bulgarians and Serbians and Greeks and Montenegrins were going to be eaten alive by the terrible Turks.

Then the Balkan armies moved, and the Turkish armies were smashed and in two weeks the Bulgarian soldiers were hammering at the gates of Constantinople, while in all European Turkey besides the Crescent flag still flew over only three fortified cities.
These have since fallen; Scutari last.

Ever since the beginning of the war
the victories of European dynamic intrigue have been seeking a chance to grab some of the spoils without risking anything in fight. Bulgaria was maneuvered through Rumania. The Bulgarians set their jaws and virtually invited the Rumanians to "come on."

However, the "concert" has finally found a Balkan state small enough to bully with safety. That is why Montenegro has to yield her hard-earned prize of war, purchased with the blood of her people.

SALOON LIMITATIONS.

Following the lead set by the Janesville council of limiting the total number of saloon licenses to be issued during the coming year, many cities

throughout the state and adjacent territory, have done likewise. Some have even gone further and have made it impossible for licensees to be granted to retail liquor men whose places of business are owned or controlled by breweries. Beloit, which claims a larger population than Janesville, has decided to have just thirty, and no more saloons in the future and it is understood they will endeavor to divorce the breweries from the saloons.
A hue and cry was raised here some weeks ago when it was announced that the number of retail liquor licenses would be reduced from fifty-three to forty, yet Beloit has ten less after July 1 than Janesville. At Sterling, Illinois, the council has decided to limit the total number of licenses to ten and has also made certain districts immune from the possibility of having a saloon in their midst. Next year they will raise the license fee to two thousand. Think of that! And Janesville charges only five hundred and has forty saloons? Dixon, Illinois, is another nearby city to make stringent rulings as to licenses as regards brewery ownership. In fact, the Sunday closing ordinances have been enforced in many Wisconsin cities and rigidly enforced at that, so taking it all in all Janesville liquor interests are not to suffer so very much after all.

SANITARY CONDITIONS.

The State Board of Health has sent out circulars throughout the state urging the enforcement of sanitary laws to prevent the spread of disease and the extermination of the flies.
Janesville has sanitary laws, but unfortunately they are not enforced.
The State Board of Health rulings are good, but what's the use when no one pays any attention to dumping garbage or its disposal making breeding grounds for flies by the millions. It is all right to preach "Swat the flies!"
but why not start a crusade of "Swat
the offenders against city ordinances."
That would have the same effect.

Evidently the so-called much-heralded smoke ordinance is considered a joke by some of the business firms that are the worst offenders in this respect. If the council passes an ordinance why not enforce it?

Impossible.

Was mentally unsound.
He claimed that he would discover a
New land beyond the sea.
By sailing westward straight away.
As sure as sure could be
He never missed a single thing
That he would undertake.
He was a great discoverer
And that is no mistake.
His reputation was immense,
Historians agree.
But there's one thing he couldn't find
If he should try right now.
His compass would be useless and
His egg trick quite passe.
If to discover he should try.
One certain thing today.
His record would go glimmering.
He'd lose his great renown,
If he did but start out to find
A cheap steak in our town.

Hints to June Brides.
It is well to send out the invitations along about this time. It is best to prepare your friends in time.
When they receive invitations late,
say only a week before the wedding, they are often out of funds and the gifts may not be as numerous and costly as they would otherwise be.
Engraved invitations are expensive,
but order about 300 more than you really need and send all of them.
Everybody won't come.
The proper way to have them read is as follows: "Mr. and Mrs. Jones request your presents at the wedding of their daughter Euphemia, etc."

and if you can keep the showers going until June, you won't have to buy

Heart to Heart Talks

By JAMES A. EDGERTON

STEALING AN UMBRELLA.

There are laws against most kinds of theft, but some varieties of larceny are too small for the law. It may not be so in theory, but it is so in practice.
A man who will steal an umbrella would steal anything else if he thought he could get away with it.
We make a joke of this thing, but in reality it is not a joke. No question that involves a moral principle is a joke.
The man who takes another's umbrella is not only a thief, but a coward.
He has not the courage for other kinds of larceny, for he fears the law.
Yet the theft of an umbrella is as much a violation of the moral law as any other form of larceny.
Here is a case in point that came under my observation. The incident occurred in a boarding house in a large city. One of the boarders bought a new umbrella and deposited it in the hall on his entrance. Upon leaving he discovered that his umbrella was gone, but that in its place was an old one with a similar handle. On the handle of this one were scratched initials, but they were not the initials of any of the boarders. The man whose umbrella had been stolen naturally refused to take this substitute bearing some one else's mark.
He supposed it a mistake, but the next morning when the subject was mentioned nobody seemed ready to rectify the error. One man, however, said that he, too, had bought a new umbrella the previous morning and made other remarks that left an unpleasant impression on the minds of several of those present. The incident there dropped, but the unpleasant impression remained.

It was evident that there was a thief among them and the most despi-cable kind of a thief at that. The money loss was small, but the principle was big.

The suspicion forced upon these people was that this individual was in the habit of taking umbrellas that did not belong to him, that he had previously picked up the one with the strange initials and in turn had left this and taken the new one belonging to his fellow boarder.

A small thing, you say? No, it was not a small thing. It was petty, yes, which made it all the worse, but habit-ual stealing is never a small thing.

The only man to tie to is one who is honest from principle, not because he is afraid of the law.

And Employs Them All.

Clubbleigh—"My wife never says 'boo'
when I get home after midnight." Tippleton—"Neither does mine; she has that."

ACKLEY RECALL BILL IS FINALLY KILLED

Measure Requiring Larger Percent of Voters to Secure Recall Election Indefinitely Postponed.

Although excitement over a recall in Janesville has subsided materially since the settlement recently effected, there will still be interest attached to the dispatch which was received from Madison today reporting the indefinite postponement of the Ackley recall bill after a fight in the assembly
last night by a close standing vote.
The measure in effect provided that the number of signers to recall petitions in commission-governed cities should be increased from 25 to 33 percent. At the time of the hearing before the senate committee, Janes-ville's recall factions were well represented and a hot debate took place on the merits of the bill, which was recommended from the committee with a few changes and was passed by the senate.

Assemblyman Peavey, mayor of Washburn, against whom a recall campaign is being waged, said in the discussion last night that he was something of an authority on such matters, and he offered an amendment to require that a signer swear before a notary public as to his qualifications to sign such a petition.

"THE BLINDNESS OF VIRTUE" IS LAST BIG ATTRACTION

In presenting "The Blindness of Virtue" at Myers theatre tomorrow afternoon and evening the management has been very fortunate in securing for its closing attraction of the season one of the strongest dramatic companies that has appeared here this year, and it is needless to dwell upon the merits of the play as every dramatic critic in Chicago has given it columns of notices and all in praise of one of the dramatic gems of the year. All those who miss seeing this splendid drama will have something to regret the day after tomorrow when it is the last big attraction this season.

CITIZENS ASK USE OF PARK FOR BOYS

Not All Of Property Owners Near Fourth Ward Park Opposed To Its Use As Playgrounds.

The attitude of a number of the citizens of Janesville regarding the playground movement was recently illustrated in a petition of the residents, or property owners adjoining the Fourth Ward Park asking the city commissioners to permit the young boys in that vicinity to use the south side of the park for amateur ball games. This interest in the welfare of the young people of our city and a generous tolerance of the innocent sports of childhood is in direct accord with the attitude of the best citizenship everywhere in the United States regarding the use of play grounds for children.

The following is the petition and the list of citizens who are willing that the young people should express themselves in wholesome recreation in a public park:

We, the undersigned owners abutting on the Fourth Ward Park, respectfully petition your Honorable Body to permit ball playing in the south side of before mentioned park. This is for boys only and not for men.

F. Nickel, 421 Galena St.
J. H. Conley, 413 South High St.
Mrs. Dan Conley, 403 S. High St.
P. H. Quinn, 410 North St.
Geo. S. Wright, 417 Ave.
J. W. Clark, 505 Park Ave.
George Culen, 402 Park Ave.
Elmer F. Edwards, 420 North St.
Emil Nitscher, 424 North St.
Thos. Dooley, 420 North St.
Chas. H. Locke, 404 North St.
P. H. Kelley, 411 Galena St.
Mrs. J. W. Coen, 407 S. High St.
Burgess Hall, 403 Galena St.
Bennett Miller, 403 Galena St.

The petitioners for and against the use of the park for ball playing were placed on file by the council yesterday but no action taken.

After the above petition was presented to the commissioners those interested in the use of the park for playground purposes formulated the following rules, the signing of which by the boys themselves should be a necessary requisite for the use of the park.

Rules Governing the Fourth Ward Park For Play Ground Purposes.

It is hereby understood and agreed that the granting and accepting the use of the Fourth Ward Park for playground purposes the following conditions and rules shall be agreed upon, the violation of which by the boys of the city shall automatically bring about a return to the old conditions, viz., that of forfeiting the use of the grounds for play purposes:

First, The use of the park for volunteer base ball games shall be limited to the south side of the grounds, the ball to be batted towards the west.

Second, The games shall be limited to those played by the boys of graded school age, say high school age, and no admission shall be charged.

Third, In respect to the need of rest and quiet on the part of the citizens living in the vicinity of the park, no baseball nor other games shall be played on Sunday.

Fourth, No profanity or abusive language shall be indulged in by players or spectators.

Fifth, No quarreling, fighting, or other unseemly conduct shall be indulged in by boys frequenting the park.

Sixth, The use of tobacco and liquor contrary to law is forbidden.

Seventh, The boys shall at all times, if allowed this special use of the park, respect the rights of other visitors in the park, passers by and the residents of the surrounding property.

Eighth, The boys agree to do all in their power to preserve and protect the shrubs, flowers, plants and the regular property of the park.

TO REPLACE BEAMS IN BRIDGE FRIDAY

Street Railway Company to Follow Suggestion of Railway Commission on Removal of Derrick.

In accordance with the suggestion of the engineers of the Wisconsin Street Railway Company, will begin Friday to replace the built-up beams under the tracks in the seventh and eighth spans from the east end of the Milwaukee street bridge. This work has been delayed because the derrick used for drawing cables and other material from the ruins of the burned buildings was in the way, and it was thought best not to take down until its work was finished. The Commission did not believe there was any immediate danger of the built-up beams giving way, but thought it would be the best possibility to replace them as the bridge was in need of use for many months at the least.

OBITUARY.

Gladya Wilder.

On Monday afternoon, May 5, the funeral of little Gladys Wilder, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Wilder, formerly of Wisconsin but now at Montana, was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Gilley at Stebbinsville. On occasion of a birthday party, the occasion must be yet beautiful. A small white casket surrounded by lovely flowers seemed in perfect keeping with the child's tired frame dropped asleep. Ephraim Raymond toward the Missouri and Edna Raymond of Fulton, sang with intuitive appreciation two most appropriate selections, lifting the thought from the thorns in our hearts to Him who bore the cross of sorrow in His brow for all mankind, and who ever shepherds "The Upper Fold." Rev. N. E. McLaughlin of Monroe, through precious familiar passages of Scripture and beautiful words of his own, drew us toward the trustful and loving yielding to the Father's loving requirement. Wm. Gilley, Cloude Stebbins, Samuel Capron and Harry Wood to all of whom the child was near and dear, acted as bearers, and by them the body was restored to the earth—given back to the processes by which the miracle of grass and trees and flower is wrought. So does the "Angel of Death" render tender and sweet the lives of those into whose midst she enters.

URGES SCHOLARSHIP AS IMPORTANT AIM

Prof. Buell Tell High School Students They Had Better Be Employed as Bookkeepers Than Shirk School Duties.

"Growth and Development" was the subject of a principal in C. Buell took this morning in which to encourage the students to get down to study. Mr. Buell cited several classes of people who are really in a class by themselves. The first class included those of the year of the students who are forced to give up school when in the grades, and who are put right out into the business world to obtain a living. These persons have to make their living and they encounter the stress of business methods before they reach the age of fifteen. The second class includes the High school graduates. These people are better fitted for the future success, by having grasped the High school education. This is an important period in life, and the student is really making his start when he graduates from high school, for after that four year course in any high school, the student has prepared himself in a general way for the work of the outside business world.

Mr. Buell includes also the student who at the time he enters college. If he does not take up a college course, then he is good for an ordinary position on the average, and has little chance to specialize. The third class is the better class mentally and educationally. This class includes the college graduate, who has made something of himself in one line of study, and is ready to help the world about him. Mr. Buell stated that the graduate from a college or university is generally dependent for many years upon his family, and that it would take perhaps two years before he could get down to the art of proving to the world what he could do. He perhaps has accomplished much in college, but he lacks only that one thing, the art of being accustomed to work things out for himself, and not to depend upon others. These three classes are important for the student in high school to consider.

Lastly, Prof. Buell stated, that he has many times rather have a High school student a member of the first class engaged as a bookkeeper than have him loafing in school with little chance of making anything of himself. The great problem lies upon the success of student making in high school, and not when he is mentally stagnant.

A jackdaw followed some children to a school at Wargrave-on-Thames, the other day, and when lessons began tried to go inside. When a teacher attempted to catch it the jackdaw defiantly exclaimed, "Get out! Get out!" It remained in the playground until the children were let out.

Get your stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels in healthy condition by taking Electric Bitters, and you will not be troubled with the pains of rheumatism. Charles B. Allen, a school principal of Sylvania, Ga., who suffered indescribable torture from rheumatism, liver and stomach trouble and diseased kidneys, writes: "All remedies failed until I used Electric Bitters, but four bottles of this wonderful remedy cured me completely." ORFORDVILLE Orfordville, May 6.—The Woman's Foreign Missionary Society will meet on Thursday of this week, instead of on Wednesday as heretofore. The place of meeting will be at the residence of Mrs. Homer Taylor, and will be the M. E. church. In the afternoon Miss Bosworth will address the ladies and in the evening she will hold a meeting in 8th, at the Methodist church.

Spring-Tired, Spring-Sick,

Spring-Weak, Spring-Miserable, is a prevalent condition at this season, caused by impure blood. Thousands are "off their feed," have poor appetite, bad digestion, dull headaches, heavy feet, tire easily, think slowly, and work poorly. Hood's Sarsaparilla is the ideal remedy. It purifies and vitalizes the blood, overcomes that tired feeling, sharpens the appetite, aids digestion, and makes life worth living. Buy a bottle and begin to take it today. Accept no substitute.

When Baby Learns to Talk.
Some children are very late in talking, particularly if they are not encouraged. They make signs or point to the object of their desires, and find it easier than learning to talk. This is pure indolence on their part and incidentally on the part of the mother.

Adenoids are a frequent cause of delayed talking. If a child does not talk at two or two and a half years of age, deafness or mental deficiency should at least be considered as a possible cause of this backwardness.

FORTY YEARS AGO

Janesville Gazette, May 7, 1873.—Last night's performance of the Haymakers drew a full house of appreciative people. The performance last night was slightly superior to that of the previous evening, there being several changes which added to the attractiveness of the entertainment.

John R. Bennett, in the role of a farmer was extremely well taken by that gentleman. All the actors performed their parts with a completeness which nothing but careful study and natural ability could produce. The little courtship scene between George Davis and Mary brought forth a serenade.

Last night's performance was throughout as fully acceptable as any entertainment that has been given in this city this season. The audience went away with a feeling of satisfaction, and it is certain that another large crowd will be present at tonight's performance.

We saw last night, a small dog barking viciously and persistently at the tail of a mild faced cow that stood patiently chewing her cud and seeming unconscious of the little snapping dog. Then we saw that mild faced cow reach out her foot behind suddenly—and the dog, O, where was he?

SYRUP OF FIGS IS BEST FOR A CHILD

IF ITS LITTLE TONGUE IS COATED, BREATH FEVERISH, STOMACH SOUR AND BOWELS CLOGGED.

Every mother immediately realizes after giving her child delicious Syrup of Figs that this is the ideal laxative and physic for the children. Nothing else regulates the little one's stomach, liver and 36 feet of tender bowels so promptly, besides: they dearly love its delightful fig taste.

If your child isn't feeling well; resting nicely; eating regularly and acting naturally it is a sure sign that its little insides need a gentle, thorough cleansing at once.

When cross, irritable, feverish, stomach sour, breath bad or your little one has stomach-ache, diarrhoea, sore throat, full of cold, tongue coated, give a teaspoonful of Syrup of Figs and in a few hours all the foul, constipated, clogged up waste, undigested food and sour bile will gently move on and out of its little bowels without nausea, griping or weakness, and you will surely have a well, happy and smiling child again shortly.

With Syrup of Figs you are not drugging your children, being composed entirely of luscious figs, senna and aromatics, it cannot be harmful.

Mothers should always keep Syrup of Figs handy. It is the only stomach, liver and bowel cleanser and regulator needed—a little given today will save a sick child tomorrow.

Full directions for children of all ages and grown-ups plainly printed on the package.

Ask your druggist for the full name, "Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna," prepared by the California Fig Syrup Co. This is the delicious, tasteful, genuine, old reliable. Refuse anything else offered.

Use a Good Fertilizer

on your corn, tobacco, beets, garden truck, etc. We have the kind you want and buying in car lots, can make lower prices than any other dealer in this section—quality considered. One farmer that used one ton last season on tobacco, is going to use three tons this year. Many are trying it on a few acres and find that it gets big results. $20.00, $26.00 and $28.00 per ton.

Montana Grown Alfalfa

is very scarce and if you expect to sow this spring or summer and want the best seed, we would advise you to buy it soon. When our present lot of this seed is gone, we will not be able to get the real Montana Dry land seed. Now $11.00 per bushel.

We Also Have Sweet Clover

and Farmogerm for inoculation. Come in and talk it over. One man who used it on 8 acres last season, put in 14 more this year and used Farmogerm.

Beets

are now used extensively for farm stock of all kinds. They are great pork and milk producers, besides keeping stock in good healthy condition. We have the Long Red Mangel, Half Sugar Stock Beet, and regular Sugar Beet.

Seed Corn, Early Murdock and Wisconsin No. 7, fire dried and tests better than 95%. We bought over two hundred bushels of this corn that was put up and selected by the late O. M. Pease and nearly every farmer knows the quality of this corn. We have a very small amount of this corn left at $2.50 per bu.

The Evening Chit-Chat

DANGEROUS PROPHECIES

"IT IS WHEN we are young that we say, 'I shall never' and 'I shall always'—not knowing that we are only time's atoms in a crucible of incredible change. An old man scarce dare say 'I have never' for he knows that if he searches he will find probably that he has." All—

all is change. —Booth Tarkington

"There's one thing I'll never do," I heard a young girl say the other day, apropos of a friend's marriage to a young man with more prospects than salary. "I'll never marry a man who is setting a cent less than $40 a week."

If it were possible for me to lift the veil that lies across my future, I would not do it. I believe most of us are happier knowing just the present, but I must say I would like to be able to look ten years ahead into that girl's future, and see if anything happens to that cock-sure assertion of hers.

I suppose you thought when you read that opening sentence that I was going to use it to launch myself into a tirade upon the extravagant matrimonial standard of the girl of today. Not at all. Of course the remark did suggest that line of thought. But as England's great story-teller so often says, "That's another story."

What if I set me to thinking most seriously what we will or will not do under this or that condition?

Is there anyone among my readers, I wonder, who is not doing at least one thing which he has said he never would?

Of course there's a chance that this cock-sure young person may stick to that vow, but I think there's every bit as good a chance that she won't—perhaps better.

I well remember an energetic young woman who used to be horrified because her newly married friends were paying $35 a month for rent. When she was married, she used to say, she would never pay more than $25.

She is now paying $40 a month.

Another young business woman who knew too well the danger that wives run when they go serenely away for the whole summer and leave their husbands to shift for themselves, was very fond of saying, "When I'm married I'll go away with my husband on his vacation, and perhaps I'll stay a week or two more, but I'll never go off for the whole three months. I don't think it's right."

It is as if a man should pretend to solve an equation with two unknown quantities, himself and the conditions.

We know in part and therefore we ought to prophesy in part. Or, better still, not at all.

HEART and HOME PROBLEMS

Dear Mrs. Thompson: (1) Kindly give me a recipe for homemade cream. (2) What will make my face

RESINOL STOPS SKIN TORMENTS

How This Wonderful Ointment Ends Itching and Heals Skin Eruptions.

No matter how long you have been tormented and disfigured by itching, burning, raw, or scaly skin humors, just put a little of that soothing, antiseptic, Resinol Ointment on the sores and the suffering stops right there! Healing begins that very minute, and your skin feels well again. You feel ashamed of the money you threw away on useless, tedious treatments.

Wherever drugs are sold, you can be just as sure of finding Resinol Ointment as you can of finding toothbrush. This is because doctors have prescribed it so regularly for the last eighteen years that every druggist knows he must keep it constantly in stock. It comes in one jar, for fifty cents and one dollar, or you can try it at our expense. Write today to Dept. 18-S, Resinol, Baltimore, Md., for a sample of Resinol Ointment and a miniature cake of Resinol Soap.

white? My face is always red.

(1) The following is a good cold cream and skin food: 4 oz. oil of sweet almonds, 4 drams white wax, 4 drams spermaceti, 2 drams borax, 1/2 oz. glycerine, 2 oz. orange-flower water. 15 drops oil of neroli, 15 drops oil of bigarade, 15 drops pimento. Melt the first three ingredients. Add glycerin to the orange-flower water and dissolve the borax in the mixture, then pour it slowly into the first mixture, stirring continuously.

(2) A red face sometimes comes from too rich blood. Heavy feeding and drinking will make the face red. Eat less meat and more fruits and vegetables. Bathe the face in buttermilk. Before going outdoors rub a little cold cream into the skin, wipe it off gently and dust with powder.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a man of forty years old and married. Is it wrong to take other women to places of amusement? My wife is not jealous.

Occasionally, as a matter of courtesy to some relative or old friend, a married man may take some woman besides his wife to a place of amusement. But it is wrong to make a habit of taking other women, unless his wife goes along. Even if the wife is not jealous, he is setting a bad example to younger men. Besides, if he really loves his wife he will prefer her company to that of other women, and it is certainly not a compliment to his choice of a wife to show people that he doesn't take her out with him.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: (1) Will you please tell me what to do to the keys of my piano which have turned partly yellow. It is a practically new piano, I paid a good price for it. I shall certainly appreciate what you tell me in regard to the cleaning of the keys and the piano as a whole. (2) I have a thing that I can wear as a preventive from disease. I work for a doctor but he has never given me any enlightenment on this question. I am always afraid of being ill since I am always in contact with sick people.

"READER": (1) Wipe the piano keys with alcohol and keep the piano lid open during the day so the weather is kept turning yellow.

(2) Just keep yourself clean and strong. Exercise in the open air, a good deal and eat good nourishing food in a way you will not be so subject to disease. Do not drink impure water and do not handle things that have been handled by sick people unless you wash your hands thoroughly afterward. Also, do not be afraid of "disease" unless it is a disease first to catch disease.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am in mourning for a brother who died in February. Have been wearing black but as the weather is nice I would like to wear a tan suit. Is it appropriate and necessary to wear a black band on the sleeve and, if so, on which sleeve should it be worn? Please do not mind the matter if I am a little late in answering with the enclosed stamped envelope. Thanking you for your kindness. READER: It is not good taste to wear a black band in Europe. Only the servants wear it to mourn the death of a master or mistress. You can wear black and white or all white as mourning, or gray and lavender shades as part mourning, if you wish.

The KITCHEN CABINET

WE GET back our mete as we measure. We cannot do wrong and feel right; Nor can we give pain and gain pleasure.

For justice avenges each slight.

SOME CASSEROLE DISHES.

The casserole may be a simple dish of brown crockery, with a cover, or a more elaborate white, fired, silver holder affair. The food will taste as good in the former variety, but will not look quite so well as a serving dish.

Digestion waits on appetite, and appetite on the appearance and flavor of food, so that the more attractive it is in its appearance, the more appetizing and, in consequence, the more digestible the food will be.

An attractively laid table, well-seasoned food and hot dishes hot; cold dishes cold, will further induce digestion of these foods. These may seem minor things, but are really of a good deal of importance in home-making.

A delicious meat dish to serve from a casserole is: chicken with vegetables. Parboil the fowl, if old and tough, then brown in a frying pan with a little butter, pour over the broth in which the fowl was stewed, add a few eighth of potatoes (parboiled), a few pieces of carrots and three or four small onions. Cook together for an hour in a moderate oven in a closely covered casserole. Serve on the table in the casserole. The nice thing about casserole cooking is that the meat and vegetables are all together in one dish, less meat may be used and all are piping hot.

Another important point to be noted in casserole cooking, is that though meat may be used and made palatable by long, slow cooking. The meat must be cut in serving-sized pieces, season and flour well, then brown in a frying pan. Make a gravy of the flour and gravy in the pan, with the addition of water, pour over the meat, add the vegetables, and dinner will be all ready to serve from one dish.

Veal, calves' hearts, kidneys, and in fact almost any kind and combination of meat with vegetables makes a delicious casserole dish.

A small piece of veal with a bit of onion and green pepper for flavor, browned and added to the meat with a cup of cooked rice will place out a small piece of meat and serve the family well and cheaply.

Plain Pasta.

Materials—Pasta flour, 3 c.; lard, 1/2 c.; butter, 1/2 c.; salt, 1 tsp., sugar, 1 tsp.; ice water.

Directions—Measure the flour, sugar and salt into the flour sifter. Sift all into the bowl, measure the shortened butter and lard and put into the flour, cutting well together with the chopping knife. When well cut in, but not too fine, gradually add the water, being careful as fast as softened to push to one side, pouring the water each time in a dry place. Add only enough water to mix all together and lift out on to the moulding board.

Look with a seeing eye on the things around you, for their is some unfavorable influence which by understanding you can overcome. Activity and growing interests will fill your year. Avoid chances.

Those born today will have talents and the discrimination. If properly directed they will win renown. They should not be under the influence of prejudiced sectarians when young. For their success depends upon a frank and fearless character development.

CHAT WITH THINKING WOMEN

by Barbara Boyd

The Woman Who Lived in the Silence.

SHE sat in the inter-urban trolley, a sad-faced, wistful-eyed woman, gazing at the scenery flying past.

A passenger back of her leaned forward and asked if the next stop was Montclair. She paid no attention to the question, and the woman beside her answered the query, remarking as she did so, "It is difficult sometimes to know what the conductors call out."

The woman looked at her curiously and intently for a moment, and then said slowly and hesitatingly, "I do not understand all you say. I am deaf."

"Don't you hear anything?" "Not a sound," replied the woman, in the same slow, halting speech. "I understand by watching the lips. You speak carefully," she went on. "It is not hard to understand you."

The two women dropped into a little conversation, the one speaking carefully and distinctly, the other replying in her slow, halting tongue. They exchanged bits of personal experience, and gave little glimpses of their home life, as women will who feel drawn to each other.

"I have enjoyed talking to you so much," said the deaf woman, as the trolley drew near the town that was the end of its line. "So few people talk to me," her eyes grew wistful as she said it.

"Have you any children?" "Yes," and her face saddened. "I have one son who is in Europe. He spends all his time abroad. I do not know if I shall ever see him again. Another son and his wife live with me. But they do not talk to me much. It is too much trouble. My daughter-in-law talks to me when she wants something. But at other times, it is too much bother to talk so slowly and carefully."

Her tone was not bitter or complaining. It was simply sad and wistful, and as if, though she longed for communion with other minds, she knew it was not for her.

"I have enjoyed my little visit with you so much," she said again, as the other woman rose to get off. "Thank you."

And as the trolley moved on, the deaf woman smiled a bright farewell. "Sitting in a soundless silence all her days," thought the woman, as she went about her business. "And her own children think it too much trouble to talk to her, except when they want something! How can such heartlessness and selfishness be! She is a dear, sweet woman, with an active, keen mind, yet how isolated, how lonely, how heart-hungry she is, because those she loves will not give her a little bit of themselves. Her very condition should impel them to give more than most children give, and yet this very condition is the reason for their giving less. And this neglect cuts deeper than the neglect of all the world besides. As she sits in the silence, what heart-thrusts these actions of her children must give her. It is little wonder her face is sad and wistful." And the woman, as she entered her own door thought, "How sharper than a serpent's tooth is a thankless child."

which has been lightly sprinkled with flour. Pat with a rolling pin and then roll lightly from you. Turn and roll again and so continue until you have the desired thickness and size for your present use. This pastry is better after standing in the refrigerator several hours before using.

Materials—Rhubarb, 2 c.; sugar, 3/4 c.; flour, 2 1/2 c.; egg (small), 1; butter, 1/2 c. Directions—Wash and cut the rhubarb in small pieces without peeling. Measure the sugar and add the flour to this, mixing well. Beat the egg only until mixed and add with the sugar mixture to the rhubarb. Stir all well together and turn on to the bottom crust and dot with bits of butter. Brush the top edges with cold water. Roll the upper crust to cover and press down on to the bottom crust. Trim off the edges and then with a thin knife loosen the bottom crust all the way round from the edge of the pan. Then in the baking, when through heat the expansion comes, both crusts expand together and no juice runs out of the pie. Bake about thirty minutes.

To Take Stains From Hands.

To take stains from hands, use half cupful of coarse cornmeal and one cupful of strong vinegar. Wash and rub the hands well in this; rinse in warm water.

LATE ADDITION TO CAPITAL SOCIETY

Mrs. John T. Robinson.

One of the latest additions to the senatorial society circle at Washington is Mrs. John T. Robinson, wife of the new senator from Arkansas. She is a native of LaSalle county, Ark., and although she has been constantly devoted to her home life, has always taken a keen interest in public affairs. She is one woman who "knows politics," but who does not aspire to be a leader in the suffragist movement.

WHO IS TO BLAME

Women as well as men are made miserable by kidney and bladder trouble. This is the commonest complaint. Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy, is the only medicine that will cure it. It is a simple, natural, and safe remedy, and is sold in fifty-cent and dollar sizes. You may have a sample bottle by mail from our pamphlet telling all about it. Address, Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y.

Every Day Talks For Every Day People...

"Are you wearing a booster button? Emblem of the fact that you are fortunate enough to be living in one of the most desirable cities in the most desirable states in the union. Yes! I've been in California, but Wisconsin comes first."

"What time did you rise this morning? At 4:30? If not, you've no idea as to how you're missing. Are you planning a garden? Do you know the satisfaction of having your own 'green stuff' for your table? Do I hear you saying that you know the feeling that creeps in to your back and arms after all day's good hard digging in your back lot where the earth seems to have been cemented down, so reluctant is it to respond to your valiant efforts. Don't be a quitter. Have a garden! Beat your neighbor—in a friendly race—in having the first peas—the biggest ears of corn. Maybe he'll have something to say about it, if he knows he's a constant in the race. Tell him! Any of your 'yes ones' boys? Let them have a garden. It will keep them off the street and, candidly speaking, is there any parent who is willing that their boys run the streets each day from four to six p.m.? A busy boy is a good boy. He is also a happy contented boy and that is what we all want our own boys to be."

"Last year we divided our garden, giving our boys a piece of land for their very own, loaning him the money to buy the seeds and charging him a certain sum as his share in the expense of preparing the ground."

was to buy all the vegetable, he raised, giving market price for the same.

The plan worked splendidly. There may have been a busier, happier, more contented boy in the city—but I doubt it. Why, a weed wouldn't poke its destructive head up in his little garden.

His profits, after paying daddy 25c for preparing the ground, and 15c for his share in the seed cost, was $4.00. The momental task of spending all this was left entirely in his hands, with the stipulation that he keep a little bit in mind, how hard he had worked to earn it. He planned to use it for so many different things, finally deciding on a pair of shoes in one of the stores, because "They had bulldog toes like daddy's shoes." One dollar went into his "school fund." The remaining $3.18 might be classed under the head of miscellaneous—remembering the purchase he made with his $1.18. I decide that miscellaneous is a long-suffering word.
